

THAT'S SO ANNOYING

1. Gather your family together for a living room recital.
2. Announce the song you will play, then sit down and play it in the most annoying way possible.
3. Now stand up and bow, even if they aren't clapping, and then apologize for playing it so annoyingly.
4. Get each family member to sign below, showing they have forgiven you.
5. Now play it again as beautifully as you can.
6. Bow as they clap.
